

Publishing Your Article in a Journal

Register today.

Date: 18 July 2017

Time: 1:00pm EDT

Location: online via WebEx

If the date and time are not ideal, save a seat by registering to ensure you receive access to the recording to view “on demand.”

Contact the Author Engagement team at authors@ieee.org with any questions.

Essential for new authors or anyone interested in understanding how to publish in a journal, this course outlines the important tasks you need to complete when preparing your scientific article for submission. The course covers three main parts:

- 1. Writing the Article: publishing ethics, authorship, and article structure
- 2. Selecting a Publication: finding your target journal and what editors are looking for
- 3. Peer Review: how it works, why it is important, and how to navigate through it.

Register today.

Join John Vig, Consultant, ECS Federal and IEEE Life Fellow. John holds 55 patents, has published more than 100 papers and 9 book chapters. His work has been cited 4,000+ times. He co-founded the IEEE Internet of Things Journal and currently serves as Associate Editor, Transactions on UFFC, and Senior Editor, IEEE Sensors Journal in addition to serving on the IEEE Conference Publications Committee and IEEE Periodicals Review and Advisory Committee.